

SKIP project update

Crews will mark right of way in February

As part of Snohomish County's Safe Kids, Improved Pathways program, public works crews will upgrade sidewalks and pathways near elementary school walking routes in summer 2015. Before work begins, crews need to mark the county's right of way in 19 different project areas. If you're reading this postcard, you live near a SKIP project and will see crews using colored flags to mark the right-of-way lines near your home.

In some cases, construction may affect your plants and/or landscaping items when construction begins this summer—likely in late June or early July. In other cases, construction may not affect your property at all. If you'd like specific information about how construction may affect you, please contact project engineer David Lee.

If you have questions about the marked right of way, please contact our right-of-way staffers: Katrina Bauman at 425-388-6678 or Jane Scott at 425-388-6686. You can also review our "Before We Build" brochure online.
